Wakefield RISC OS Computer Club

The Wakefield RISC OS Computer Club provides a friendly face for RISC OS in Yorkshire, the surrounding regions and across the UK

Wakefield RISC-OS Computer Club — Formed 1983

Meetings

Meetings take place at 7.45pm on the first Wednesday of the month, and usually consist of a talk or demonstration with plenty of time for informal discussions and trips to the bar before and after. Presentations have included

*R-Comp • RISC OS Open Ltd • Sine Nomine • Mike Cook
Beagleboard • Raspberry Pi • ARMini • ARMX6
Digital photography • Free software • Music
Ovation Pro • ArtWorks 2 • EasiWriter
PDF generation • Networking • Problem solving*

Visitors are always welcome to attend our meetings – there is a fee of £3 on the door for non-members.

WROCC

Members receive a copy of our monthly newsletter, The WROCC, containing articles on RISC OS and its software, hints and tips, information about the subjects covered in our meetings, and much more.

All members receive a PDF copy by email or download from the website. In addition to the standard 'one page per sheet' version, a 'two-up booklet' format PDF is also available for those who prefer to print a copy for reading.

Help and Support

Amongst its membership, WROCC has a range of experience of RISC OS – and even 8-bit Acorn – systems. If you have a problem with your computer, there is always likely to be someone to discuss it with at our meetings.

In addition, all members are invited to join our email discussion group, which provides a friendly forum for help, support and advice between meetings and for those unable to attend on a regular basis.

Club History

Originally formed in 1983 as the Wakefield BBC Micro User Group, WROCC has held monthly meetings ever since.

When Acorn introduced their revolutionary 32-bit machines in 1997 we supported them too, and the group is now one of the longest established RISC OS user groups in the UK – we celebrated our 30th Anniversary in 2013.

In 1996 we organised the first Wakefield Acorn Spring Show. Since then, the Wakefield RISC OS Computer Show has become firmly established in the platform's calendar.
